BUSINESS AND EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

Allen joined the Dallas-Fort Worth office of Colliers International in May 2002 as a managing director.

During his extensive career, Allen ran his own brokerage firm, The Gump Company (1992-1998), and successfully led industrial divisions for The Baldwin Company (1984-1992) and Fults/ONCOR. In 1998, Kennedy Wilson bought Fults/ONCOR and Allen became the senior managing director.

Allen is a well-recognized industrial expert for North Texas. Beginning his career in 1984, he has a solid, respectable reputation with both other real estate brokers and his clients as a straight-to-the-point dealmaker.

Allen attended the University of Texas at Austin and received his Bachelor of Business Administration.

"We have utilized the services of Colliers International in many areas of the country over the past ten years of our expansion. Colliers truly understands the meaning of "Customer Service". In the Dallas/Fort Worth area Allen Gump is our "Go to Guy" and he has never let us down. Taking the time to learn about our business he only brings us properties that he knows will work for our needs. The most important thing to us is the service doesn't end at the sale. True professionals are sometimes hard to find but not with Allen & the Colliers International Team."
